Letter from the President:

Fellow Quilters

I really enjoyed selling raffle tickets at the Hersey Quilt Show. It was great to talk to so many people that share a love of quilting. I brought along registration forms for our September class. All twenty or more of these forms were taken by people that may take this class! Now I know we won't get all of these students but it was very encouraging.

Take a moment to read the details of this September class "Seasonal Scrappy Silhouettes" which is in this newsletter.. I ordered my silhouette and class kit from www.cabininthewoodsquilter.com . The silhouettes are discounted under the York Quilters Guild workshop in the store menu. Order in the store under York Quilters Guild to get the discounted price.

Penny said all of these are under 20 inches so my plan of making a European pillow sham will work. There is time for you to order as Penny our instructor will bring your supplies along to the class.

If anyone has a problem ordering contact me at 717-487-5112 or email joannehammen@comcast.net so I can assist you.

This month's meeting is our annual covered dish social. Bring along your favorite Summertime dish to share. We will have several Guild members demonstrating. If you would like to get a new recipe, learn a new quilting technique or be amazed by our “show and tell”. Please join us.

OUR GUILD IS GREAT WHEN WE ALL PARTICIPATE

August Picnic and Mini-Demonstrations

Our August 15 Meeting will be our annual indoor picnic.

Please bring a dish to share.

The meeting will also include our annual mini-demonstrations, which were cancelled in January due to snow.

The schedule of demonstrations:

Free-motion quilting with Joanne Hammen

Making greeting cards from fabric with Sonja Houser

Flange binding with Donna Sheffer *

*Want to learn how to add an extra little detail to a quilt binding plus complete it faster than the traditional method? I will demonstrate how to do a Flanged Binding. Flanged binding is a two colored binding, that has zero hand stitching, and looks beautiful from the front and back.

Retreats

Our next two retreats are now under contract. You may want to put them on your calendar now.

Fall Retreat is November 22, 23, 24

Prices will be same – singles $210 - doubles $170 - triples are $150

I will try to pair you up with a roommate or you can let me know when you sign up who your roommate will be. I will take signups for the Fall Retreat in September 2019

Spring Retreat will be one week earlier than usual and the Date is April 17, 18, 19.

York Quilters' Guild Minutes, July 2019

President Joanne Hammen called the meeting to order on July 25, 2019, at 7p.m. One new member was present.

Mary Moul, treasurer, reported Explore York invited the guild to be a member. They would advertise our 2020 Celebration of Quilts in their magazine and place cards in visitor centers and hotels. Tena Wolfe suggested we place quilt show cards at the York Fair.

The guild will be filing the nonprofit Articles of Incorporation in PA to retain our tax exempt status.

The show committee reported the Garden Club of York would like to use our negative space at the Celebration of Quilts 2020 for a garden show. This would attract garden club members from neighboring counties. Hopefully this partnership would increase attendance.

Leftover raffle quilt blocks were distributed to a few members who will turn them into pillows.

Members displayed projects during Show and Tell.

The program, "Color Exploration," was presented by Julia Graves.

Respectfully submitted,

Dawn Gerber

Recording Secretary
